between 1881 and 1897 Benito Pérez Galdós generally acknowledged as Spain's greatest nineteenth century novelist composed some twenty contemporary novels which Geoffrey Ribbans characterizes as the peak of his achievement. This monumental study traces the evolution of the many strands that make up one of them: the long and complex novel Fortunata y Jacinta. Ribbans examines the various stages of composition: not only the earlier reconstructed alpha version but also subsequent revisions in the much corrected handwritten text and in the printer's galleys. He treats these tentative drafts as part of the process of reaching out toward the coherent definitive text. Ribbans's analysis of such devices as the ambiguous role of the narrator, the use of free indirect style and direct dialogue and the construction of distinctive ideolects leads to the heart of his study: the development of Galdós's characters.

Knowledge of life today presents the thoughts of Jean Gayon, a major philosopher of science in France who is recognized across the Atlantic especially for his work in philosophy and the history of life sciences. The book is structured around Gayon's personal answers to questions put forward by Victor Petit. This approach combines scientific rigor and risk taking in answers that go back to the fundamentals of the subject as well as the relationship between philosophy and the history of science. Gayon discusses the main questions of the history and philosophy of biology that marked his intellectual journey: Darwin, evolutionary biology, genetics and molecular biology, human evolution and various aspects of the relationship between biology and society in contemporary times: racism, eugenics, biotechnology, biomedicine, etc.

The ability to speak two or more languages is a common human experience whether for children born into bilingual families, young people enrolled in foreign language classes or mature and older adults learning and using more than one language to meet life's needs and desires. This handbook offers a developmentally oriented and socially contextualized survey of research into individual bilingualism, comprising the learning, use and, as the case may be, unlearning of two or more spoken and signed languages and language varieties. A wide range of topics is covered from ideologies, policy, the law and economics to exposure and input, language education.
